Care and cleaning instruction

- Soak your griddle in hot water before washing.
- Cool your griddle slowly. Do not put the hot griddle under a cold water tap.
- Once cooled, the griddle can be cleaned in the dishwasher [it should be removed immediately at the end of the wash cycle and dried]. You can also clean it by hand, using a soft brush [nylon] or a non-abrasive sponge.
- Abrasive and corrosive products, scouring powder or metallic pads should be avoided.
- The griddle should be dry before being stored away. A light coating of cooking oil is recommended as this will help protect the surface.
- Do not try to remove the patina which is formed over time: This improves cooking performance and helps to avoid food sticking to the griddle.
- Rust spots may appear over time, they do not affect the cooking quality.
- As an alternative cleaning method, at the end of cooking, fill your griddle with warm water. This tip helps to cool the grill on the induction hob [no trivet needed in this case], and the main cooking residues will unstick by themselves.

Disposal instructions

Disposal and packaging

- Please ensure that the packaging is disposed of appropriately in accordance with the guidelines and standards applicable in your region. Some of the packaging may consist of plastic bags - take special care to keep them out of the reach of children. There is a risk of suffocation!
